We’re Praying for You

We offer a Mi Shebeirach prayer for all who are ill at every Shabbat service. Call the synagogue office, 714-963-4611, to have a prayer offered for yourself, a member of your family, or a friend. Names will be placed on the list for a period of two months.

This Is Your Page

Share your simchas and sorrows with your friends at CBT. Let Rabbi Young or the office know about happy events to share in our Mazel Talk section.

If you notify us about the death of a family member, we will publish the name in our In Sympathy section. We also want to know if you or a family member or friend is ill and should be included on the Mi Shebeirach list.

We’re in the Endgame now.”
Doctor Strange (Avengers: Infinity War)

By the time you read this I think it will be safe to say that if you have not yet seen Avengers: Endgame, you probably do not care much about spoilers. If I am wrong, go see the movie and then continue reading.

My family and I went to see the final installment of the MCU Phase 3 as soon as we could. Since 2008 when the movie Iron Man introduced the post-credits scene, I have been looking forward to the formation of the Avengers, the final (perhaps) battle with Thanos, and the race to get the Infinity Stones. Avengers: Endgame did not disappoint. It was a moving cinematic experience watching characters I have known since childhood go through this amazing moment in their story. There were moments I have been waiting almost ten years to see, brought to new life by the visionary direction of the Russo brothers. Watching this movie was an extraordinary event.

When I think about extraordinary events in Jewish memory, I am immediately brought to Sinai and the revelation of Torah for the Israelites. It was an event they had been waiting quite some time to experience, whether we consider them waiting since Egyptian slavery or waiting since release from said slavery, and a moment of miraculous, heart-wrenching joy.

Every year we celebrate receiving Torah at Sinai on Shavuot, a holiday marked by anticipation. Since Passover we have been counting up, adding one Omer each day until we reach seven weeks, which is when we begin Shavuot. It is the only holiday mentioned in the Torah that is given no specific date on which to celebrate, just the counting that leads us up to it. It is almost as if we are eternally unsure of its arrival, but we count up to it anyway, hoping for another revelatory moment with our community.

Rabbi Abraham Joshua Heschel teaches that this makes the moment of revelation even more transcendent than it is for us, since the Israelites “had no space, they had no land; all they had was time and the promise of a land. Their future depended upon God’s loyalty to His (sic) own promise, and their loyalty to the prophetic events was the essence of their future” (The Moment at Sinai, 1953). All they had was time and a promise, and after Sinai, a relationship with God.

There was nothing like that moment, and there never will be. Yet every year we try to envision Sinai for ourselves, changing that pivotal, people-creating event into a personal process of acceptance. We each have the opportunity to hold the Torah in our arms, receive a blessing, and walk away from our Sinai moment still carrying Torah in our hearts.

The story of revelation at Sinai may be familiar to us. We may have heard this story year after year since childhood. The Israelites are more than characters in a story, they are us. We experience Sinai in a variety of ways, and each trip to the mountain is different for each of us, and it changes year after year.

On June 8 at 7:00 PM, we will once again experience Sinai at CBT, and we hope this moment of shared celebration will evoke emotion, connection, and covenant.

See you at Sinai!
Your 2019-2020 Board of Directors has been elected! Beginning July 1, 2019, we will welcome eight new board members to our leadership, and I am so excited to begin working with them. Please join me in welcoming (in alphabetical order): Greg Berger, Fran Boughey, Nancy Danger, Eve Gumpel, Steve Hamrell, Martin Heimlich, Janice Newfield, and Suzanne Seiden! They will join our incumbent Board members: Amy Benton, Al Davidson, Mark Goldhamer, Russell Markus, Marni Orsbern, and Joe Rotcher - as we face new challenges and make exciting decisions about the future of CBT. Thank you all for your continued service in the year to come.

Saying hello to the new directors means having to say farewell to six individuals who have provided a great service to CBT. Some have served just one year, and others have served as many as ten years in different capacities. I am so grateful to Debbie Biebelberg, Richard Colodny, Bernie Kessler, Keith Kushner, Adam Lang, and Adam Williams for stepping up, showing up, and speaking up on all the issues that matter.

Please join us for Volunteer Shabbat on Friday, June 14, 2019, at 7:30 PM. The entire CBT community will recognize the outgoing board, install the incoming board, and recognize all of CBT’s amazing volunteers. There are so many jobs that need doing, and CBT members show up in a variety of ways, giving their time and energy to provide valuable services to our congregants, show caring at difficult times, and spreading out the load to ease the burden from falling on too few shoulders. The old saying that 20% of the people do 80% of the work is probably true everywhere, but at CBT, the numbers are better because so many dedicate themselves to rolling up their sleeves, getting their hands dirty, and making a difference. Finally, we have some very special awards to present to some outstanding volunteers, and I wouldn’t want you to miss it.

As we approach the end of the fiscal year, I have been reflecting on all the Board has accomplished since July 1, 2018. We revamped our vision, mission, and values statements; we received training from the URJ; we formalized the committee infrastructure and have begun working on filling those committees; we worked with consultants to assess the feasibility of a major fundraising campaign and voted to move forward with launching the campaign; we installed a new sound system; we formed a technology committee to begin working on redesigning our website; we updated the constitution; we renewed the contract for our Director of Education and we added two new staff members to our front office, which has resulted in vastly improved efficiency and congregant interaction, and so much more. Before the end of the fiscal year, we should also start to see the implementation of the safety and security projects from the CalOES Grant. Never a dull moment! I can hardly wait to see what 2019-2020 brings and what we are able to accomplish as the new Board comes together.

I absolutely love serving CBT, and I have thoroughly enjoyed the challenge and rewards of serving as the president. I am excited about starting my third term. Thank you for your confidence and for allowing me to continue for one more year to make CBT a little better, a little brighter, and a little more like home.

L’shalom,

Shellie Halprin
The Adult Learning Classes are taking a break and will be back in the fall.

Who Doesn’t Appreciate the Oneg?

Everyone enjoys gathering after a Shabbat service for the Oneg Shabbat (literally, “the joy of Shabbat”). After the kiddush and motzi, we visit with our fellow members and guests, while enjoying delicious refreshments. Have you ever thought about how those treats magically appear? One way is if someone sponsors the oneg. To learn more, contact Sarah in the office.

What is the second way to contribute to making each oneg possible? Donate to the Oneg Fund, one of CBT’s charitable funds. It couldn’t be simpler…fill out the donation form included in each issue of the Bulletin, add your form of payment, and mail or carry it to CBT. You can also get a form in the office.

There are so many opportunities in our lives for supporting the Oneg Fund…consider honoring your friend’s or relative’s birthday, anniversary, or any other occasion. Skip the commercial greeting card store and instead support CBT! Make a donation—in any amount—to the Oneg Fund and CBT will send the recipient a lovely personal note conveying your wishes (excluding the amount, of course). Your donation will be acknowledged in the Bulletin as well.

Donations to the Oneg Fund—they’re fast, they’re easy, and best of all, you will make it possible for all of us to experience the joy of Shabbat at CBT.

Shavuot--What a Blessing!

The Festival of Shavuot caps off our Shalosh Regalim (pilgrimage holidays). Shavuot marks the end of our exodus; on Passover we physically exit Egypt, and on Shavuot we complete the spiritual leg of the journey with the acceptance of the Torah and its moral and ethical codes. Shavuot commemorates the spring harvest and the giving of the Torah on Mount Sinai.

For me, Shavuot is a truly special occasion. Here at CBT, it is my highest honor to pass the Torah from community member to community member and offer personal and private blessings. Spending the time connecting with so many of you is one of the highlights of the year; I cherish the moments spent speaking with you and the sacred space we create together.

I look forward to seeing you on June 8 for our Shavuot service. May our learning be meaningful and our blessings be plentiful!

B’Shirah,

Jenna

PARKING LOT PROCEDURES

To assure your safety, please adhere to the following procedures whenever you park at CBT:

1) ONE-WAY ENTRANCE/ONE-WAY EXIT - The CBT parking lot is one way only. We have installed new signage at the entrance and exit, as well as a wrong-way sign if you head for the entrance when you leave. It is critical that you observe these signs. ALWAYS ENTER through the second driveway at the west end of our property, and ALWAYS EXIT through the east driveway. It only takes an extra few seconds to enter and exit correctly.

2) LONG-TERM PARKING - If you and your friends are meeting at CBT to carpool somewhere and you will be leaving your car, you MUST INFORM Sarah DuVal (in the office), Rabbi Young or Al Davidson. Provide them with your car's make, model, color, and license plate number. Failure to inform one of them of your intent to leave the car for a few hours may result in the car being towed. Unidentified vehicles pose a safety threat! You are welcome to leave your car as long as you inform someone first so we know the car's ownership.

Thank you for making CBT's parking lot safe!
Four tried and true men and a newcomer have agreed to lead Brotherhood in the coming year.

Here are our Brotherhood leaders:
Greg Halprin, President
Blake Miller, Vice President
Mike Kibel, Treasurer
Gary Miller, Recording Secretary
Ian Leveton, Corresponding Secretary

The new slate, received in April, includes the return of five appointed chairs: Marty Heimlich, membership; Arnold Adler and Harris Stutman, publicity; Mike Kibel, Yom HaShoah candles; and Al Davidson, religious practices.

Thanks to Marty for leading a men’s issue discussion on April 28. Some serious questions were raised that deserve revisiting next year.

We thank Arnold Adler for coordinating the showing of the movie "Beautiful Music," about an 18-year relationship between a Jewish woman and an autistic Palestinian girl who she successfully taught music and piano.

Harris Stutman is already planning the Brotherhood's annual excursion to an Angels game. This year's game is against the Detroit Tigers on July 29 at Angels Stadium. Tickets are $25. E-mail Harris at svoyager2001@yahoo.com to see if tickets are still available.

Our programs for the early part of the coming year will include some of our past successful events, such as attendance at a free concert in July at Mile Square Park offered by the city of Fountain Valley, the free pizza and beverage event for paid-up Brotherhood members on September 4, and Bagels Under the Sukkah on October 13. Other events planned for the year will include our Jewish Topic Night on December 1, our Jewish Movie Night on December 24, and of course, our now-famous dinner and dance party on February 15, 2020. New programs are also sought, especially those that would include families and children. Any suggestions should be submitted to Greg Halprin at ghalprin1@gmail.com.

It won’t all be fun and games. Brotherhood will continue to do our service to CBT by ushering at Shabbat and High Holy Day services, putting up and taking down the Sukkah, cooking at congregational events, conducting a social action project or two in the community, and our Yom HaShoah candle fundraiser to help fund CBT and our religious school.

Musical triumph: We had a great turnout for the May 5 “Broadway Mamas” concert, featuring our own cantorial soloist Jenna Sagan, and women cantors and soloists from across the Southland. Also debuting was CBT’s Shir Chadash, our new youth choir. Thanks, Jenna, for making that a reality!

Thanks to everyone who attended the fundraiser and special thanks to our sponsors: Robin Einstein, Mark and Sharon Goldhamer, Shellie Halprin, Karlee Hughes, Alan and Laurel Jarrick, Bernie Kessler, Lance and Laura Pinkham, and Sam and Diane Salzman. We received donations at the door from Helene Weinstock, Mimi Spencer, and Adi Lessenger (“Fiddler” tickets). Apologies to anyone whose donation is not included here. Yizkor Shavuot is approaching! Yizkor, the memorial prayer for departed loved ones, will be said three more times this year: Shavuot, Yom Kippur, and Shemini Atzeret. The text of the prayer asks God that the souls of our loved ones be “bound up in the bond of life with the souls of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob, Sarah, Rebecca, Rachel and Leah, and with the other righteous men and women who are in Gan Eden” in merit of the charity that we give in their honor.

You can honor the memory of your departed loved ones by dedicating a set of bookplates to each of them in our High Holy Day prayerbooks. Each donation of $36 gets a bookplate added to one Rosh Hashanah book and one Yom Kippur book. Please see the flyers on our website or in the CBT lobby, or call Sarah in the office to request a form to make your dedications.
